

SHORT/PROMO BIO

An Australian musician who has performed in several international countries. Her interest in music initiated at the age of 12 and expeditiously grew with the love of the electric guitar, excelling her to winning Queen of Strings Best Female Guitarist In the World at the age of 17, competing with a gallery of international artists, being judged by Jennifer Batten, Nik West, Orianthi and Nicole Fiorentina.

Her career grew steadfastly from this point, with a multitude of national and International performances.

Evangelista's explosive electric guitar playing style will shiver your musical spine and her melodic piano touch will comfort and soothe your soul. Certainly a superstar you will appreciate and who will forever be in mind.
